Frankfort, Ky., August 9.—Kentucky Democrats in the state primary Saturday showed conclusively that they are not ready yet to nominate a man for Governor who is committed to State-wide Prohibition.

Former Congressman A. O. Stanley, of Henderson, who is an avowed coun-

by American Press Association.

A. O. STANLEY

ty unit law advocate, was nominated over Harry V. McChesney, of Frankfort, and Lieut. Governor Edward J. McDermott, of Louisville.

Mr. McChesney made it plain to the voters throughout a strenuous campaign that he stood for State-wide Prohibition. His vote was largely confined to the rural districts, and, while one hundred and six counties out of one hundred and twenty are dry under the county unit law, he failed to carry many of them.

Edward J. McDermott was non-committal as to his convictions, but it was generally supposed that he stood for the county unit law as against state-wide prohibition. He carried only his home city of Louisville, falling down in Jefferson County outside of the city, carrying only one precinct. He ran a poor third throughout the state.

Stanley's victory was overwhelming, sweeping the state from one end to the other. Since his defeat for the United States Senatorship in the fall of 1914, he has been stumping the state, and it is said that he made more stump speeches than any other candidate in the race.

Stanley was given national prominence when as a member of Congress he was appointed Chairman of the Steel Trust Investigation Committee, and through this rigid work which he carried on for two years attracted much notoriety through the magazines and newspapers. He was elected to six consecutive terms in Congress by the Second District and served until March of this year, when his term expired.

MANAGED BY HAGER.
The Stanley campaign was managed by Judge S. W. Hager, of Owensboro, prominent politician, and who was defeated for Governor on the Democratic ticket in 1907.

VOTE BY DISTRICT.

Some counties in the mountain section and also remote precincts of other counties are missing.

FIRST DISTRICT—Stanley, 10,212; McChesney, 9,288; McDermott, 987.
SECOND DISTRICT—Stanley, 18,

099; McChesney, 6,220; McDermott, 1,518.

THIRD DISTRICT—Stanley, 8,507; McChesney, 4,359; McDermott, 455.

FOURTH DISTRICT—Stanley, 7,

456; McChesney, 5,594; McDermott, 1,915.

FIFTH DISTRICT—Stanley, 7,991; McChesney, 1,800; McDermott, 10,998.

SIXTH DISTRICT—Stanley, 10,474; McChesney, 3,090; McDermott, 3,717.

SEVENTH DISTRICT—Stanley, 11,493; McChesney, 7,397; McDermott, 2,893.

EIGHTH DISTRICT—Stanley, 7,927; McChesney, 6,154; McDermott, 858.

NINTH DISTRICT—Stanley, 6,034; McChesney, 5,477; McDermott, 819.

TENTH DISTRICT—Stanley, 10,783; McChesney, 483; McDermott, 412.

ELEVENTH DISTRICT—Stanley, 2,013; McChesney, 1,177; McDermott, 444.

CARRIES ALL BUT FIFTH.

Stanley carried every district in the state by a substantial majority except the Fifth District, the home of Lieut. Governor Edward J. McDermott, and even here he ran a close second. There have been few instances in Kentucky politics where a candidate has not completely swept the state.

CLOSE FOR LIEUT. GOVERNOR.

The race for Lieutenant Governor is close between James D. Black and James P. Edwards, with a slight advantage in favor of Black. It will take an official count to determine this race. Edwards was a running mate of Stanley and stands for the county unit.

Black has openly favored State-wide Prohibition, and if his election is certain it may mean that the dry question will be in calcium again. Two years ago a statewide bill passed the House and failed in the Senate. Should the Barbourville man preside over the Senate would give statewide a big advantage, even though the Governor may stand for the county unit.

CLOSE FOR SECRETARY.

The race for Secretary of State is between Barksdale Hamlett, present Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Charles W. Milliken, of Louisville. It appears that Milliken has won the race, but may take the official vote to decide.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM CONVENTION.

The Democratic platform convention will be the next scene in Kentucky's continuous performance political show for the purpose of promulgating a platform to put under the Democratic candidates named Saturday to try conclusions with the Republican and Progressive nominees at the regular election on Tuesday, November 2.

With A. O. Stanley, the Democratic nominee, and pledged to the county unit law and against statewide prohibition, it is practically certain that the county unit sentiment will pervade the convention, and with the views of President Woodrow Wilson and Senator Ollie M. James, which are in keeping with the view of the Kentucky Democracy as expressed in the convention of 1911, will be written into the platform of this year.

Within the next week or ten days State Democratic Chairman Vansant will call the state committees together and fix the time and place for the assembling of the delegates and to determine the date and manner for the selection of the delegates.

FIRST PRIMARY ELECTION.

This was the first campaign for nomination for state offices under the primary election law adopted by the General Assembly in 1912.

Supt. Public Instruction—NO CANDIDATE.
Comm. of Agriculture—NO CANDIDATE.

Louisville, Ky., August 9.—It is said that the Progressives propose to inject a statewide prohibition platform into their party for the general election on Tuesday, November 2.

Little interest was manifested in their primary Saturday, only a few votes being cast in each county.

ONE KILLED AT HICKMAN.

Hickman, Ky., August 9.—Bert Wallace is dead, Walter Allison is believed to be mortally wounded, while Sam Cleves, who is just old enough to vote, is shot through the mouth as result of a quarrel over politics at one of the precincts Saturday during the primary election.

ONE DEAD IN PULASKI.

Somerset, Ky., August 9.—Frank Summers, a farmer, is dead as result of an election quarrel. Trouble occurred at the political speaking at Bourbon by J. H. Taylor, a lawyer. Taylor gave himself up and is in jail.

MORROW WINS IN GOVERNOR'S RACE

Lieut. Governor—LEWIS L. WALKER.
Secretary of State—JAMES P. LEWIS.
Attorney General—T. B. MCGREGOR.

Supt. Public Instruction—R. P. GREEN.
Comm. of Agriculture—WILLIAM C. HANNA.

Frankfort, Ky., August 9.—Edwin P. Morrow, of Somerset, was chosen the Republican standard-bearer by an overwhelming majority over his opponent, Latt F. McLaughlin, of Madisonville, whose vote was negligible. There was little opposition to the

EDWIN P. MORROW

Republicans who were decided upon at the Lexington convention held two months ago.

Lack of opposition failed to stimulate interest among the Republicans in many sections of the state, some counties casting only a few votes.

PLATFORM BEFORE NOMINATION.
The Republicans at their Lexington convention decided upon a platform which stands for the county unit, as against statewide prohibition.

Agreed with the attitude of the Democrats on this matter, there will be little division in the parties, with the exception of the Progressive vote, the leaders of whom claim they will draw from both parties.

KENTON STRONG.

Kenton County gave Morrow the biggest vote of any county in the state at the Saturday primary.

FIRST PRIMARY.

This is the first primary in which the Republicans have ever participated. Formerly and before the recent enactment of the general assembly in Kentucky all nominees were selected by the old-time conventions.

HARD BATTLE FOR NOVEMBER.
Headed by State Chairman Ed Franks, of Owensboro, the Republicans have laid plans for a strenuous fight at the November election.

While the state is normally Democratic, the Republicans expect a similar recurrence of 1907, when William, Republican, was elected Governor and Bradley to the United States Senate.

TWO MEN KILLED AT JACKSON.
Jackson, Ky., August 9.—The old feud spirit over political campaigns was revived in Breathitt County at the primary Saturday and Grover Cleveland Blanton and Martin Clemens are dead. Eliza Allen is wounded. The trouble arose at a precinct named in honor of the Clemens family. Trouble came up over the race for local judge ship.

Circuit Judges.

In the Circuit Judges races Shackelford defeated Benton by 230; Stout is elected by 600; Hyden defeats Riddell by 500; Eversole defeats Fields in the Perry District; Young wins at Mt. Sterling by 1400, carrying all the counties.

LANSING AND MCADOO CONFER

Talk About Mexican Situation In New York.

PARLEY WILL BE RESUMED

Pan-American Conference on Mexican Affairs, Begun in Washington, Will Be Renewed in New York—Consider Financial Plans.

Washington, August 9.—The Pan-American conference which met here last week to devise a plan for restoring government in Mexico probably will be resumed in New York next Wednesday.

Secretary Lansing made this announcement upon his return from New York, where he conferred with Secretary McAdoo, Mexican affairs and the co-operative effort of the United States and Latin-American republics to end the factional strife were discussed generally.

"We talked of the Mexican situation," said Secretary Lansing, "but we did not consider any financial plan for supporting a Mexican government. The principal purpose of my visit to New York was to talk with Mr. McAdoo concerning financial arrangements for the Pan-American conference to be held at Buenos Ayres in September. There is considerable preliminary work to be done in connection with that."

Asked when the Mexican peace conference, which recessed here would be resumed, Mr. Lansing said:

"It will be resumed early this week, probably on Wednesday, in New York. With regard to Gen. Carranza's suggestion in the brief filed for him with the state department that his representatives would confer 'with any element' in Mexico for the welfare of the country, there have been no developments reported. It is known that the suggestion was dispatched to Gen. Villa, now at Juarez, but no response from Villa has been received by his Washington agents."

Administration officials who have been inclined to believe that a peace parley between Mexican elements might soon result independent of the appeal to the military leaders which will go forward from Pan-American nations are not now so sanguine. Reports from the City of Mexico that Dr. Juan J. Ortega, the Guatemalan minister there had been given his passport by Gen. Carranza and ordered to leave the country within twenty-four hours were responsible for this change of mind.

Inasmuch as Guatemala is represented in the Latin-American conference, Carranza's drastic action is regarded here as indicating a disposition of unfriendliness toward the conference.

Ortega's forced departure from Mexico, together with the departure of M. Cordoso, the Brazilian minister at the City of Mexico will leave in the Mexican capital no diplomatic representatives of any of the seven nations participating in the Mexican conference.

Judge Benton's Card.
I thank my friends from the depth of my heart for the loyal support they have given me. No man ever had truer friends, and they have, by their devotion, placed me under a lasting debt of gratitude. I hope they are worrying just as little over my defeat as I am.

I know that a large majority of the white while people of this district supported me, and approve my course and condemn the corrupt practices by which my defeat was accomplished. Their approval and the peace of my own conscience are worth more to me than office. It is a notorious fact that the entire purchasable element of the district, white, black and mixed, was bought and venal have, for the time prevailed, but I am optimistic enough to believe that this is their last victory.

At the close of the present year I shall surrender the circuit-judship to my successor with a feeling of relief that the burdens, the worries and the responsibilities of the office have been lifted from me, and with the sincere hope that he who succeeds me, may be able to, and will render the people a better service than I have rendered them during my term of office.

"With smiles toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in."

Gratefully,

VILLA CONFERS WITH SCOTT

Realize Collapse of Effort to Become Dictator.

WILLING TO ACCEPT PEACE

Will Retire From Field Provided Carranza, Zapata and Obregon Do Like-wise—May Locate in the United States With Other Leaders.

El Paso, Texas, August 9.—Gen. Villa is remaining in Juarez for the arrival of Gen. Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the United States army, to confer with him on Mexican affairs.

Villa is said by those who should know, to be convinced of the utter collapse of his efforts to become dictator of Mexico and is said to be willing now to accept any measure of peace that will recognize him as a patriot and enable him to retire and save his face.

Officers of Gen. Villa began arriving for a conference with their chief, which will be held today. What the conference is to consider has not been said, but it is believed that the meeting is to get their ideas on plans for a peace conference with other Mexican factions.

While talking of his future and still importing ammunition, the coming of Gen. Scott is said to have convinced them about upon a suggestion from Villa himself, who hinted through George C. Carothers that he would quit, if the United States would help him to turn loose.

Gen. Scott will arrive today to lay before Gen. Villa the plans of the United States for Mexican pacification and obtain Villa's views. It is said the United States plans to eliminate Villa, Carranza, Zapata and Obregon from presidential possibilities in its peace plans and the matter upon which the delegates agree on some man considered strong to take up the plan of pacifying the country.

Villa is said to be willing even to retire to the United States, where he is reputed to have enough wealth stored to make him independent for the rest of his life, and it is said he will insist that Carranza, Obregon and Zapata do the same thing for the time being, leaving Mexico to the restoration of influence of whoever is selected by the peace conference, which will be held, if the plans of the United States do not fail. The peace conference would be composed of delegates representing all factions. These delegates would nominally select a man for provisional president, but since he must be agreeable to the United States, President Wilson virtually would exercise veto power over the convention, according to what is learned here.

NATIONAL REGISTRATION
England Prepares to Mobilize Nation Quickly and Intelligently.

London, August 9.—Every household in England will receive this week a national registration from which blanks must be filled out and ready for collection by August 16.

One hundred thousand voluntary distributors have been engaged to give out 27,000,000 printed slips which will indicate the various men and women, up to sixty-five, most of the distributors will be women, supplied by the Women's Emergency Corps.

The indexing system to be followed has been carefully worked out. The indexing general staff through the press exhorts the people to give all the correct information in order to give the government the fullest possible chance to mobilize the nation intelligently.

Conditions at St. Marc Still Turbulent.

NO REASON FOR EXPULSION

Not Known Why Ortega Was Banished From Mexico City.

Mexico City, August 9.—Officials say they don't know the cause for the expulsion of Dr. Juan J. Ortega, minister to Mexico from Guatemala. Gen. Gonzales having received an order from Carranza to the effect that Ortega must leave the country.

It is not thought Ortega's expulsion is connected with revolutionary expeditions across the Guatemala border, but rather to Ortega's attitude among the diplomats here. It is understood that Carranza considers Ortega in the light of a "pernicious foreigner," who has been meddling in politics.

Carranza's ire is believed to have been aroused by the presence of Guatemalan diplomats at recent peace conferences in Washington. Mexico and Guatemala have not been on friendly terms for a number of years.

It is officially denied here that the German charge d'affaires is to be expelled. They declare that such action is not contemplated.

Stung in a New Place.
A man and a woman dropped into a small town and put up at the best hotel. The next morning they secured a rig each and started over the country asking the farmer folks for a chicken for an orphan's home in St. Louis. After two days' begging they sold the chickens to a local produce man for $30 and left town. Their loot included several cash donations.

A variation of the scheme is for a man wearing some sort of a badge to call on the farmers under the name of the department of health and demand to see his poultry. After examination he condemns twenty or thirty hens and tells the farmer that they will have to be killed because they are diseased. He very kindly offers to take the chickens and do the killing himself. If the farmer consents the man takes them to the nearest commission merchant and sells them. The scheme is being worked all over the country. If a man or woman calls on you with a demand that looks suspicious, call up your local authorities and ask by what right they are asking to inspect your stock or poultry. When you get the answer, turn them over to the police.

Many side trips have been planned. There were in the party besides Dr. and Mrs. Crabbe: Messames Mary B. Deane, Pauline Arnold, Thompson Burnham and Misses Maude Gibson, Emma Hempley, Daisy Hampton, Miss French, Hilda Dilling, Ellen Gibson, Miller, Estelle Whitehouse, Nora Jones, Madge Burnham, Matilda Mason, Harriett Mason, Margaret Goff, Rachel Elm, Elizabeth Farley, Margaret Morton, Carrie Lyon, Bessie Haggard and Miss Hughes. ## JACK ASS Y.

The following scurrilous article appeared in the last issue of the Register:

A PARTING SHOT.

"A strong Stanley partisan and a substantial citizen as well as given us for publication the following extremely scurrilous article, which should be read with interest by all."

"The time has come when wild cat talk and hot air misrepresentation must give way to votes, and there has never been a time when a vote will count for as much for the welfare of the Commonwealth as on Saturday. The State Widens, Holly Rollers, Fanatics, and Wild Men of Borneo are lo-o-o-whoping it up under the delusion that if McChesney be nominated our boys and girls will be saved from strong drink. Do these same parties know that the State Treasury right now is over $2,000,000 short, and if these untamed ones could have their way it would mean a deficit of several million more? Where do they suppose this money will come from? I'll tell you. It is to come out of the already taxed citizens. Cheap speech, improperly labeled oratory, will not pay a cent of this deficit. It takes dollars, coin of the realm. 'Ah,' they say, 'but we have saved the people—God, city people this saved. Tent meeting shouting does not save anything, any more than it will feed them.'"

"It takes dollars and love and sympathy to save people and to bring about a moral reform. A band of bandit politicians might save you until they have voted you, and then they will feed you to the wolves. The whole propaganda is a delusion and a snare: a Governor has no more to do with giving State-Wide Prohibition than the humblest citizen. Yet they use the moral phase, pull the strings and get the puppets to dancing to the music of the pirate band. The strongest supporters of McChesney are the Republican Party, next Holly Rollers, next Fanatics, next Wild Men of Borneo, and lastly good men and true who are misguided by the sounding brass and tinkling cymbal issued by that noble and philanthropic pair General Haley and Senator Beckham. The end however is in sight for these political schemers and their dark lanterns, methods, and the bunch of crimples left over after the wreck will tax the eleemosynary institutions of the State to their capacity. The wolves must die in their own skin and the Democratic party will come into its own, freed from spoilers and grafters. With A. O. Stanley at the front there will be no more of the signing lobbyists, and the Republican hordes will take to their mules and back to the bushes. And Ed will wait for To Morrow. And now right at the all along the line, shoot straight and the victory is won."

J. A. Y.

Now we do not know whom it is that would so far forget himself as to give expression to such language. But while we don't know what the "Y" stands, everybody knows that the J. A. stands for Jack Ass.

This foolish article seems to have the hearty endorsement of the Register. We will let the good people who are thus arraigned by Jack Ass Y find out for themselves whom and what he is.

That peace society which wants an extra session of Congress has a queer idea of preserving the peace.

GETS BETTER ALL THE TIME

"Gets better all the time" is what our subscribers say about the Climax-Madisonian when they come into pay their subscriptions. It is our earnest endeavor to give our subscribers the best newspaper, or at least as good as any paper published in the county, and in our effort to do so, we have the satisfaction that we are meeting with success, judging by the many kind words said to us about our paper.

NEW COUNCIL.

All of the old Council, except Golden, went down in defeat. The new men are young, energetic, good fellows and we expect much of them. Richmond needs push and energy to get it out of the rut in which it has been for many years.

Most of all, it needs a Mayor who will "Mayor," one who will make an effort to do something. If the present Mayor won't do anything, then the Council should, without a moments hesitation, remove him from office.

AT IT ALREADY.

And now we have on our hands a scramble for Judge Shack's shoes. Judge Greenleaf is one of the entries, Judge Rice another and Mr. Joe Boggs the third one.

For the love O Mike boys! can't you wait till Shack gets his new red top boots?

NOW IS THE TIME.

"We read the other day," says a Missouri editor, "where a fellow was shot and his life was saved by the bullet striking a silver dollar in his pocket. Now, should we get shot before you pay up your subscription, we shall always presume that you might have saved our life."

COL. WALTON.

Our veteran editor, seems to have lost. But what is an editor for if it is not to whomp it up all the time for some other fellow?

Don't he get his reward by feeling how soft is the number twelve that strikes his rotund extremity?

HOW IT HAPPENED.

It was just this way. Stanley got nearly all the votes. Left just enough to ease the two Macs down gently. This was very gracious of him.

Editors generally as a rule are kind-hearted and liberal, some of them unusually so. An exchange tells of a subscriber who died and left a fourteen years' subscription unpaid. The editor appeared as the lid of the coffin was being screwed down and put in a linen duster, thermometer, a palm leaf fan and a recipe for making ice.

The Richmond Climax is so hot for James D. Black, of Barboursville, for Lieutenant-Governor that it prints two pictures of him in its last edition. When the Climax goes a-cattin it goes a-cattin.—Interior Journal.

When the nominees of the Democratic party are certainly ascertained, we will put them at the head of our column and give them loyal support. That's the way we do business.

Every time the the Republicans have carried Kentucky it has been due to Democratic folly rather than Republican wisdom. Is history to repeat itself this fall?

An Atlanta man wants to exchange a cemetery lot for an automobile. If he gets the automobile he may need the lot.

Get the arnica bottle boys and go to work on the sore joints. If the Bull run over you, excuse the bull.

Most of the people who abuse Mr. Bryan haven't sense enough to know for what he stands.

The reason we hear less about petticoat rule is because there is less petticoat.

A united party can win. A divided party may lose.

Hoo-ray for Stanley and the boys.

Let bygones be bygones.

Federation Press Committee

Mrs. J. G. Crabbe, chairman of the press department of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, before leaving for a month's trip to California, has announced from this city the members of her committee and the district press chairman.

The members of the press committee will have charge of the newspapers they represent or choose to represent for the coming year and will keep the news of the federated clubs before the public.

Mrs. Crabbe has not quite completed the press organization and after her return will be able to announce the plan of work and additional members. The district press chairmen are Mrs. Don Taylor, Fulton; Mrs. Given Ruby, Henderson; Mrs. Arch Pool, Frankfort; Mrs. Shelton Saffley, Stanford; Miss Lila Hall Smith, Maysville; Mrs. Fred A. Vaughan, Paintsville; Mrs. Robt Elwood Pineville. The eleven members of the committee already named are Mrs. J. H. Dickey, Louisville; Mrs. Graham Vreeland, Frankfort; Mrs. May H. Dean Owensboro; Miss Mary Bryant, Lexington; Miss M. Annie Pogue, Ashland; Mrs. Hortense Flexner, Louisville; Mrs. Robert Elkin, Lancaster; Mrs. W. L. Brainerd, Paducah; Miss Marguerite McLaughlin, Lexington; Miss Marian Gaines, Louisville.

Migratory Bird Law To Be Enforced

Sportsmen Warned that Federal Regulations for Protection of Wild Fowl Must Be Observed.

With the approach of the open season for shooting wild fowl, the United States Department of Agriculture is warning sportsmen that the Federal regulations as amended October 1, 1914, will be strictly enforced. Some misunderstanding has arisen from the fact that the various State laws do not always conform to the Federal regulations. This is regarded as unfortunate but in such cases the Department must insist upon the observance of the Federal regulations.

The Department will consider any recommendations submitted in good faith for amendment of the regulations, but will hold no public hearings thereon nor will it amend the regulations prior to October 15, 1915. It is the purpose of the Department to conform the regulations to the wishes of the majority of sportsmen so far as it can be done and at the same time give wild fowl the necessary protection.

Federal regulations divide the United States into two zones. Zone No. 1, the breeding zone, includes the States of Oregon, Idaho, Colorado, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey, and all States north of them. Zone No. 2, the wintering zone, includes all States south of those named.

The regulations prescribe seasons as follows:

Open Seasons for Migratory Birds in 1915 Under Federal Regulations.

Zone No. 2.
WATERFOWL.—Oct. 1—Jan. 15.
Exceptions: Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia, N. Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Nov. 1—Feb. 1.
Fla., Ga., S. C.—Nov. 20—Feb. 10.
Ariz., Cal., Tex.—Oct. 15—Feb. 1.
ARKANSAS, OKLAHOMA, SEPT. 1—DEC. 1.
Exceptions: Tenn., Utah, Oct. 1—Dec. 1.
Missouri.—Sept. 15—Jan. 1.
Louisiana.—Nov. 1—Feb. 1.
Ariz., Cal., (coots).—Oct. 15—Feb. 1.
WOODCOCK.—Nov. 1—Jan. 1.
Exceptions: Del., La., Nov. 15—Jan. 1.
West Virginia.—Oct. 1—Dec. 1.
Georgia.—Dec. 1—Jan. 1.

SHORE BIRDS.—BLACK-BREASTED AND GOLDEN PLOVER, JACKSONVILLE, FLA., SEPT. 1—DEC. 1.
Exception: Fla., Ga., S. C. Nov. 20—Feb. 1.
LAKE, LA., MISS., TEX.—Nov. 1—Feb. 1.
Tennessee.—Oct. 1—Dec. 1.
Ariz., Cal.—Oct. 15—Feb. 1.
Utah (snipe).—Oct. 1—Dec. 1.
Utah (plover and yellowlegs). Sept. 1915.

Insectivorous birds protected indefinitely. Band-tailed pigeons, cranes, swans, curlew, and smaller shore birds protected until September 1, 1918: wood ducks in Kansas and West Virginia, and woodcock in Missouri are also protected until September 1, 1918.

Shooting prohibited between sunset and sunrise; or at any time on the Mississippi River between Minneapolis and Memphis, after January 1, 1915.

The Colored Chautauqua.

The Colored Chautauqua, which opened in this city last Wednesday morning and closed Sunday night, was the greatest event ever witnessed in colored circles in this community. The weather was ideal from start to finish, and large crowds were present morning, afternoon and night. They came from every section of the county, and some of the most distinguished colored educators in the United States were here and lent their genius in making the Chautauqua a signal success. There were lectures on scientific subjects. Agriculture and home-building were given a great stimulus, and every lecture delivered, pointed the way to higher standards, better methods, a more refined manner and upright living. Every man who appeared upon the platform was a master, and thrilled and charmed all who heard, both white and colored. Many of the lectures were rare gems of intellectual thought, and showed much study and research in their compilation. Aside from the splendid course of lectures there was a good musical programme, both vocal and instrumental, to amuse and entertain the crowds. Everything was free on the grounds, except the "seats" and "drinks." The Chautauqua was financed by popular subscription, largely by the white population, and never was money better spent. Every contributor who heard any of the lectures and witnessed the deep interest taken by the colored people and their good behavior throughout, was fully repaid and more than pleased with the investment. One distinguished citizen, in speaking of the affair, said: "It was the biggest thing ever pulled off among the colored people of Richmond. It beats the fair. It is a great educator for the colored people. I contributed to its support this year, and I will gladly contribute next." There was not a ripple of confusion to mar the occasion, and the colored people are to be highly commended for their decorum by every honest and intelligent person. They did nobly, and we are proud of them. We wish our colored friends success in every worthy enterprise. Let it be borne in mind, however, that it is only by truth, sincerity, honesty of purpose, and upright living can we really accomplish any great results in life. We believe the Chautauqua, which the colored people have just held, will have a far reaching effect upon the morals of the community and eventually result in much good. Here's hoping it will.

To The Democratic Voters of Madison County.

Greetings.—The people of this good old county have made their choice of the candidates for the various offices, and every democrat should lend encouragement to the nominees from now until the polls close on election day in November. This is no time to be a grouch and pessimist, but be a booster and optimist.

It is one of the fundamental principles of Democracy that the majority rules, and the "apolls belong to the victors." As one of the four candidates for Representative in the next General Assembly of Kentucky, at the primary election held last Saturday, the people, by their votes, showed their preference for one of the other candidates. That was their inalienable right. I hope their rights will be safeguarded and their wishes respected. I am "of the people, by the people, and for the people," and shall zealously guard their rights and endeavor to carry out their wishes. I do my part, as gracefully as I know how, to the winner and bow in submission to the will of the people.

I am for the ticket from top to bottom. There are no sore spots on me—not one. I thank everyone who rallied to my support, and shall ever cherish them in memory. I made a clean fight and shall endeavor to live what those who supported me will never have just cause for regret, while those who did not support me will always wish they had.

Very respectfully,
FRANK LESTER RUSSELL.

The Victor typewriter is the newest and best machine on the market.

THE TOBACCO CROP.

Tobacco is fine and probably could not be improved upon in Fleming county.

Tobacco is above the average in Bourbon county, although there is no indication of a bumper crop.

Clarks county's crop is irregular this year, some crops being topped growing while others are small. Present indications are that the crop will be light.

Tobacco in Bracken county, has never stopped growing, and much of it has been topped. It is ahead of the usual time and cutting will be earlier this year than it has been for a good many years.

Much of the tobacco in Woodford county, was firing before the rain of Friday, July 30th, but will be greatly helped now. Some crops have been the most promising in many years. In some localities the hail damaged tobacco to a great extent.

Of the growing crop in Tennessee all reports indicate only a moderate growth and from the outlook at present the crop on the hill does not promise to be attractive, though weather conditions may change this in a few days, and like last year what is now considered a poor prospect may change to a good one.

Fairly good rains proved a great benefit to tobacco in Montgomery county, which was greatly in need of moisture. The crop, especially the late, is very backward and does not seem to be doing much good, but there is yet ample time to make a good crop. A large acreage of the early planted has been topped. The crop is looking fine, and with seasonable weather should make a good yield. While the hot sunshine did injure some tobacco, and the crop is backward, yet taken as a whole the outlook is fairly good.

Talbot Jenkins is at home from Lexington for a few days stay with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jenkins. This unusually intelligent young man has finished his course of studies at Smith's College and is returning to accept a position. Messrs. Russell Millon and Luther Jenkins motored over to Lexington Friday and spent the day. Marie Jenkins was the week-end guest of Miss Fanny Jenkins, of Millon. Mr. Haman Newby is enjoying his new car. Little Miss Geneva Haden entertained at her home on the 7th, quite a number of her little friends with a birthday party. Tommie Heathman died at his home July 30th, of tuberculosis, age 10. He was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Heathman. Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved family. A series of meetings are being conducted by Bros. Crutly and Bratcher. Much interest is being taken in the meeting. Mr. Abner Long and wife visited relatives in Lexington last week and attended the fair. Mrs. A. E. Barnes and children of Somerset, are visiting her mother, Mrs. Ida Taylor. Mrs. J. H. Millon, of Forest Hill spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. M. L. Haden. Mr. and Mrs. Burrus and wife motored over to Lexington one day last week and incidentally took in the fair. Now that the Primary is over, the men will have to hunt up a new subject for discussion. Lightning struck a large tree in the yard of Lawrence Tudor one day last week, killing nine chickens which were sheltering in a box near the tree and Mrs. Tudor and little son who were on the porch near by, were slightly shocked. Mr. John Haden and wife, visited the latter aunt, Mrs. Betsy Ann Lowry, Saturday. Turner Tudor was on the sick list last week, but is some better.

BYBEE.

Miss Bertha Murphy entertained last Thursday in honor of Misses Katherine and Elizabeth Baumstark, who have been the attractive guests of Miss Katherine Bybee. Those who enjoyed Miss Murphy's hospitality were: Roberta Boggs, Sadie Belle Brock, Katherine Bybee, M. T. Bybee and Katherine and Elizabeth Baumstark, of Cynthiana.

Mrs. Matt Cornelson was called to Richmond last week by the death of her nephew, the little son of John Yater. Mr. Vardy Bybee, of Georgetown, is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Bybee. W. I. Brock, of Fayette county, is visiting his sons, W. S. and O. A. Brock. Ama Brock, of Speedwell visited her brothers from Friday till Monday, returning to her school. Mr. Afford Freeman's residence was destroyed by fire last Saturday night, origin unknown. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Adams, and little daughter,

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Chambers are rejoicing over the arrival of a handsome girl baby named Joe Etta.

Real Battle in November. Mr. Stanley has issued a statement as follows:

It is natural that a number of Democrats should entertain the laudable ambition to serve their party and their country as Governor of the State. The Democratic party must necessarily make a selection. On August 7th I was the fortunate aspirant. I feel assured that the distinguished gentlemen who sought this nomination and their royal Democratic friends will close ranks with their comrades who supported me prior to the primary, and that together we shall march to the real battle and the real victory in November.

In this last primary the Democratic party of Kentucky made a choice not so much between men as measures. The issue which the Democracy of Kentucky was called upon to decide was simple and sharply drawn—namely, whether it would continue to maintain the principle of local option and local self-government or try the experiment of State-wide prohibition. It was in its essence a referendum to the people. After a campaign of education, thorough and elaborate, after discussion of this subject in every county in the State, the people have rendered their decision, and have definitely determined, as I interpret the returns from the last primary, to reaffirm the position taken in 1911 and to maintain the county unit law as it is now written.

Hoping that this question may be eliminated from politics and that we may begin now to seriously consider grave and pressing matters, I take this occasion again to assure the people of Kentucky that if elected Governor I shall exert all the power vested in me to prevent its further agitation and to maintain intact and without change or amendment the county unit law as now enacted.

The Democratic party is, by tradition by inheritance, by experience and by right of the majority so often expressed at the polls, the natural guardian of the political fortunes of Kentucky. When our battle is won in November we must at once take up the serious work of solving the problems that confront our State. Kentucky needs remedial and constructive legislation which looks to the advancement of our educational, agricultural and financial conditions. Only through such legislation can the interests of our people be adequately conserved and the full destiny of Kentucky properly realized, and our great State be made for the interest of all its citizens, in truth as in name a Commonwealth.

Eye Burned Out.

While making a punch out of an old file in a blacksmith shop on his place Wednesday, Baller D. Holtzclaw, who lives on the Crab Orchard pike, just beyond Cedar Creek in Lincoln county, met with an accident which will cause him to lose sight of his left eye. A red-hot piece of steel flew out of the tongs he was holding it with and struck him in the corner of his left eye, destroying the sight and causing him unspeakable pain.

Successful Candidates. Mr. Vernon Million has passed the State examination as a pharmacist with high honors and has accepted a position with the Davis Drug Co., at Danville. The manager of the company has left for a vacation and put Mr. Million in charge of the business. The examination was held at Covington and out of a class of thirty-six, only seven passed.

Mr. Chas. Anderson, formerly of Perry's Drug Store of this city, was also one of the successful applicants. He is located at Danville.

Misquoted. "Hon. W. B. Smith asks us to deny the statement, contained in the Climax that he stated in his speech last Saturday that he is for statewide prohibition. He is strongly opposed to this movement, and regrets that he has been misquoted. Mr. Smith made an able and eloquent address in favor of Mr. Stanley's election, which seems assured."—Kentucky Register.

The Editor of our paper was present and heard Mr. Smith's speech and knows exactly what he said. He was correctly quoted. Over a hundred good citizens heard the speech and they know that our statements are correct. Probably it was a "slip of the tongue" and as such we let it pass.

Hurt by Automobile. Mr. P. L. Hume, formerly of Irvine and well known here where he has many relatives, was seriously hurt at Santa Ana, Cal., by his automobile. Mr. Hume had a small stick in his hand and in getting out of the machine it came in contact with the machine, which was slowly moving, and drove the stick into the body perforating the lower bowel which caused intense pain and dangerous complication set up necessitating an operation. At the present time he is getting along splendidly and no further trouble is anticipated.

You Can, If You Will

Would you increase the value of your property if you could?

It's easy to do and worth doing. Get busy on it, clean it up; repair and paint up; grade your grounds; if they need it; keep your walks in good condition and add new ones where required out the weeds and keep them down, both on and adjacent to your property; don't throw trash in the street or the back yard; keep up your fences, if you have them; grow plenty of flowers and nice shrubbery, and MAKE IT A PLACE OF BEAUTY.

Then go around and brag like the dickens to your neighbor about YOUR place, and keep on bragging until you make him jealous of its beauties and he goes to work and does the same with his.

Then let him in on the secret and start him out to rubbing it into his neighbors, and see that he keeps it up until they, too, become tired of the contrast and the bragging and get busy on their own property with a determination to outdo the rest of you.

And in time the whole town will become jealous of the property of each other and every fellow will be whooping it up to see who can have the most attractive place.

Then the traveling public will come along and take notice, and go away and talk of the beauties of our town and the thriftiness of our people, and other people will want to come and live in such a fine community.

And isn't it easy to do that your property then it will be worth nearly double what it is today?

Revival Closed.

The revival at the Second Christian Church has resulted in 32 additions to the church. It closed Tuesday night. Rev. Hudspeh has many friends and is popular with all churches. The local pastor Rev. G. C. Banks is a promising young man and beloved by his congregation.

Those who are in arrears for more than one year must pay their subscriptions without further delay. Uncle Sam won't let us carry you any longer. Besides we need the money in our business. 1f

Church Notes

(Christian Standard.)

I began a meeting on Monday night, June 28, at Speedwell, Madison County, closing the meeting on Friday night, July 2. There were 44 additions during the meeting. The church at Speedwell is in a prosperous condition. Their preacher is Bro. Matherly, of Clay City, Ky. He is a splendid young man and is greatly beloved by the people of that community.—Hall Laurie Calhoun.

Fun For The Boys.

Everybody will be on McKee's corner on Saturday, August 14th, at 2 p. m. At that time an election wager will be "pushed off." Mr. Thomas Sale is the victim. Mr. Sam Phelps will ride in a wheelbarrow propelled by Mr. Sale.

About a month ago Mr. Sale was so confident of Judge Benton's success that he unwisely agreed with Mr. Phelps, a Shack man, that if Slack was nominated that he would push a wheelbarrow around the court house square with Mr. Phelps seated therein. This was promptly accepted by Mr. Phelps who agreed to do the pushing if Benton won.

Buckley & Taylor will furnish the barrow and Richmond's noted artist, Mr. Jno. Mershon, will decorate the vehicle, which will be on exhibition on McKee's corner.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the procession will start and everybody will be on hand to see how Mr. Phelps does the king act and how Mr. Sale will take the part of the slave of yore in time.

Come and see the fun.

Pie Supper.

There will be a pie supper at Bethel school house next Friday evening, Aug. 13th. Everybody invited.

Announcement.

We are authorized to announce Walter Q. Park as a candidate for the office of Representative from Madison county, subject to the action of the Democratic party in the primary election in 1917.

Mr. Park made a very fine race against great odds in the recent primary and is so well known and his merits so fresh in memory that it is needless for us to add anything else. He has the right spirit and mettle and takes his recent defeat good humoredly.

Miss Nannie Geneva Haden entertained a number of her little friends Saturday afternoon with a lovely birthday party. Childrens games were greatly enjoyed, the most interesting being a contest, the prize going to Miss Gladys Chaney. At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served in the dining room, where the colors pink and white were beautifully carried out. A number of useful and handsome presents were received by the charming little hostess.

Miss Jane D. Stockton was hostess of a lovely "500" party on Tuesday given in compliment to Miss Eugenia Hume of Louisville.

Miss Effie Land entertained Wednesday afternoon with a bridge party in honor of her guests, Misses Turley and Eaton, and for Miss Grace Johnson. Supper was served after the game, and handsome prizes were awarded.—Courier Journal.

Princess Gown For the Elderly Woman

MANY one piece dresses are now being designed, and for autumn the one piece frocks are to be frankly princess. One of the incoming princess effects is shown in this illustration. It is made of navy blue pussy willow taffeta. Silks, cording trims the self ruffle at the bottom of the skirt and the cord forms a novel grille which confines a slight fullness at the waist. The waist also has a long V effect of white with a collar of lace which relieves the one tone effect and lends freshness to the face. This gown will still be in vogue when the season ends. ANNA MAY.

In Society

It isn't the thing you do, dear.

It's thing you leave undone

That gives you a bit of heartache.

At the setting of the sun,

The tender word forgotten;

The letter you did not write.

The flowers you did not send dear.

Are your haunting ghosts at night.

The stone you t-right have lifted

Out of a brother's way.

The bit of heartsome counsel

You were hurried too much to say;

The loving touch of the hand, dear,

The gentle, winning tone;

Which you had no time or thought for,

With troubles enough of your own.

—Margaret E. Sangster.

Quite a pleasant event of the week was the delightful six o'clock dinner followed by an Alhambra party given by Miss Laura Waller at her home on High street, last Saturday evening. Miss Waller is a most charming hostess.

SEEING LIFE with JOHN HENRY & George V. Hobart

John Henry on Turkey Trotting

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

SAY! did you ever get ready and go to a Turkey Trot party?

Shouldn't I deserve it? Well, here in New York the Pet of Fortune who makes it his life's work to Burn Money is sometimes hard put for an excuse to Light the Match.

When a Falooza with nothing in his attic but shredded wheat falls heir to a handful of Mazuma he quickly realizes that the money has to be ignited—but how to do it!

The awning that hangs between his pompadour and his eyebrows becomes Carefurrowed from trying to figure out just how to set fire to the coin Dad left him without attracting the attention of the police.

The Poor Thing soon discovers that it's awfully hard to invent a new style in Financial Bonfire, so he falls back on the flint-and-steel method of ignition—and Gives a Party.

He knows that his bundle of green and yellow pathfinders will burn with a brighter flame if he can induce a lot of Night Riders to turn by his hearthstone during the ceremony.

And joy in abundance is his when they begin to kick the ashes around his $5,000 apartment with their slipped feet.

Having heard Peaches breathe a desire to be Among Those Present at a Turkey Trot, our friend Hep Hardy got busy with his favorite paying teller and gave one.

I tried to explain to friend wife that she'd find herself in a bluish-producing atmosphere where she'd hear them discussing White Slave dramas, hot from the Grand Jury room, but she merely stung me with a dimpled smile and said, "Tush; come on; let's settle a taxi!"

Hep lives in one of those expensive shacks where the entrance is made up to look like the room Louis the Fifteenth used to get shaved in.

When you step in the front door you think you've suddenly arrived at a forced sale of art objects and bric-a-brac.

The attendant who greets you with a grin like a comatose catfish must have been at one time a Captain in the Imperial German Army, for he still celebrities present, with the exception of those who were busy stepping on each other's feet in the joyous dance.

Peaches and I sat down to watch the mad revels, but as we did so a music box concealed in our little tete-a-tete sofa began to play "Smoochy Oomums."

So we arose hurriedly and decided to stand during the rest of the carnival.

When we hurriedly arose to the occasion a Literary Gnat whose name is George Nathan got the laugh of his life.

"Pardon me!" he said, giggling, "but to a man with my keen sense of humor the episode of the concealed music box was intensely ludicrous. Now that my laughter has subsided would you mind doing it over again that I may study the situation from a psychological point of view?"

What are you going to do with a friend's smile like that?

I wanted to coax him into one of the bath rooms and turn the shower on him, but Peaches begged me not to dampen his youthful ardor, so I told him what particular ingredient of a cheese sandwich he resembled and passed him up.

George is fearfully erudite. With his thumb and forefinger he picks his words out of his bulging forehead and assembles them into neat little paragraphs. These he carries on a tray to a magazine where kind-hearted men pay him money and beg him not to come back until he has spent it all.

George was getting along very nicely until one day somebody told him he was clever—then he fell apart.

Now he makes up his pieces in front of a mirror and when he thinks of something devilishly cute he and his reflection exchange loving glances.

Then he pins a medal on his breast and quits work for the day.

Somebody would take off George's watch and slap his wrist real hard.

In the meantime the war dance of the Manhattan Indians went bravely on. It was catch-as-catch-can all over the place.

They swayed and toddled and wobbled and bobbed, each and all of them trying hard to conceal the fact that they were human beings.

They danced the Lame Duck and

Meantime the War Dance of the Manhattan Indians Went Bravely On.

wears his Ullian uniform with the hand-painted sleeves and the Murillo panels inserted in the silk stockings.

Some class, take it from Uncle Jasper!

There is such an air of subdued elegance and concentrated luxury about the layout that you want to rush to a telephone, call up your office and tell them there that you're never going to work again as long as you live.

The elevator doors swing open disclosing a picture post card of a Turkish seraglio—whatever that is. Then a West Indian chauffeur, all dolled like Sir Walter Raleigh on his way to see Queen Elizabeth, gives you the high sign and shoots Heavenward while you sink to your waist in the Persian rug on the floor of the gilded cage.

Hep's parade grounds are on the Twelfth floor. His apartment consists of eleven rooms and nine baths. Through an oversight the dining room and the butler's pantry have no bath attached, but Hep says that defect will be remedied if he has to drop another $3,000 a year into the Kitty.

The Party was in full blast when we reached the scene of the Conflagration.

A string orchestra concealed behind a lot of aristocratic rubber plants scattered enough rag-time for everybody to dip in and help themselves, so up and down through Hep's library into the drawing-room, through the living-room, across the hall, and through the card room, around the foyer, back through the sitting room, down the hall again and back into the drawing-room, the various couples pranced and galloped and wriggled and squirmed and joshed each other into the belief that this was Life.

Hep met us at the door of the Fun Factory and introduced us to all the Slimping Cinnamon Bear; the Lingering Drag and the Jack Rabbit Jump; the Boston Antelope, and the Philadelphia Scramble. Every once in a while they had to take a long breath and then off again into the Buzzard Bend and Walrus Wiggle.

Each individual tried to act as a special agent for the Zoo?

"How do you like it?" I asked Peaches.

"It's awful," she gasped. "Look at that girl over there. Why does she try to act like a penknife?"

"Come out of the hardware store," I answered. "She's doing the Armadillo Bendback!"

Just then Hep came up and asked Peaches if she wouldn't glide out and dodge the furniture with him, whereupon the Queen of my Bungalow shuddered from hairpins to shoe buckles, murmured, "I don't know how," and hid her head in my shoulder.

"I'll fix that," squeaked Hep, and two minutes later we were confronted by a thick-set individual who talked in chunks.

His name was Manuel Hochenstein and he had a map on him like a cross-section of the McAdoo tunnel.

"Why don't you get out and hit the hurdles with the hoppers?" he inquired.

"My wife wasn't brought up in a circus," I went back at him; "and I'm a shine aerobat."

"Aw, say it's a cinch, this bunk Turkey Trotting," Mr. Hochenstein informed us. "Why, in ten minutes I can learn anybody that isn't a war veteran with two wooden legs. I got a studio where I learn everybody—ten dollars a lesson. Why, I've learned some of the swiftest Society dames in this burg. You know I used to be a bookmaker, but there's more money in this game. It's a ten to one shot and bring the bacon every time the flag drops. It's a pipe—I can learn anybody. I learned Hep Hardy, didn't I?—and his feet are like a couple of nervous ferry-boats."

"All the Turkey Trot needs is two arms, two legs and a sunny disposition."

"Here's my card—anything you like I'll learn you—the tango, the dip, the trot, the glide, the lunge, the squat, the squirm, the slide, the spiral, the fore and aft, and the side-wheel. Say! if your wife will come out on the fire-escape where it's quiet I'll learn her the Texas Spider in eight minutes by a stop-watch—get me?"

"I can get you," I said, "but I don't need you."

Then we permitted Manuel to fade abruptly out of our lives while Peaches gurgled, "Why should any sane person want to learn those awful dances?"

"True for you, little bright-lamps," I chorlied; "but they tell me there's a wiggle bit of a germ that gets in the blood and then your temperature rises and you break out in a Bunny Hug."

"Nonsense!" she sniffed and left me flat just as Hep bustled up again.

"Great!" I exclaimed; "but, say, Hep! you've been getting some new statuary, haven't you? What's that over in the corner there, with the bright lights around it—A Venus du Milo with the arms restored?"

"Let me see that," Hep chuckled. "That's Clariel Swift of the Frivolity Theater."

"Oh!" I said; "what's the matter—did the dressmaker disappoint her?"

"Why, no," Hep assured me; "she's wearing the latest in French creations—the cobweb gown."

"Well, why not get the poor girl a screen; she'll catch cold," I suggested just as Lord Rumbold of Merry England hawhawed his way over to us, whereupon Hep whispered something to me about being kind to the nobility and moseyed away.

"Ripping, isn't it?" said His Lordship.

"Which one?" I queried; "that makes seven you've counted in half an hour."

"What are you referring to, I mean to say?" monologued the son of a Belted Earl.

"The skirts," I answered; "they've been ripping ever since the music died. Some of these ginks do the Turkey Trot like a hungry man going up an apple tree for a midday meal."

"Quite so," picadilled the last of his race; "but I was referring to the affair—the party! Ripping! I didn't think I was going to like America, I mean to say, but these Turkey Trot parties have quite won me over."

I attend them constantly. I was broken-hearted when they closed the cabarets at one o'clock. Disgusting, really! What is life without the turkey trot? What is life without one existence without the tango—nothing. I mean to say. Take away my Bunny Hug and what have I left—nothing! Separate me from my Boston Dip and life becomes a drear expanse. What's the use of going to restaurants any more? One can't eat one's soup without turkey trot music. I've tried it—and it splashes."

You know when the bug bites as deep as that it does no good to yell for peroxide.

"I say, old chap," His Lordship rattled along, "where's your charming wife? I should like awfully to do the New Orleans Drag with her—what?"

"She doesn't dance," I said. "One foot is a Presbyterian; the other a Methodist—nothing doing."

"I think she does splendidly," the truant from the House of Lords came back at me. "Ah, there she is now with my friend, Hardy; doing the Cincinnati Cling, aren't they?"

I looked and, suffering rag-time! his blue-blooded Nib was right. There was Peaches with Hep Hardy hoofing it down the room and making the occasion a jubilee of joy.

Gasping, I fell back on the trick sofa and let "Smoochy Oomums" play to the bitter end.

"Bind up his wounds, Doctor; with proper nursing we may pull him through."

His Outlook.

"Life seems all upside down!" moaned the baby, when they reversed him because he had swallowed a button.

"At any rate, you're well heeled," responded the parents, each of whom held one.

Little Pitchers.

"Grandma, are you with the circus?"

"Of course not, child. What makes you ask such a thing?"

"I heard pa say that when you came to visit us, we'd have an elephant on our hands."

Those pupils of the Runyon Grove School, who have done excellent work for the month of July and on the Roll of Honor are as follows: First Grade: Edgar Moore, Second Grade: Laura Parkes Third Grade: Marguerite Gentry, Fourth Grade: Linnie Gentry, Fifth Grade: Bessie McGuire, Lucy Lee Parke. There are others who have done good work but these are the best in their class.—Teacher, Elizabeth Tudor.

Robert Walker, Richmond, Ky., made fourteen shows at the Bessie, Ky., fair, winning nine blues and five red ties. Hazel, full sister to Hazel Dawn, won first in all her classes. Robert Walker, Jr., made a great show with his spotted shellant pony, Polka Dot, made three shows and two blues and one red. He is just seven years old, but handled his pony like a Grand Circuit driver, and had the crowd with him at all times. Bessie had the best fair in years. Big crowds, show rings well filled, and races good.—Home Farm Journal.

ASKS FOR DESERTION LAW

Would Make it a Felony For Man to Desert Wife or Child.

Frankfort, Ky. (Special): A law making it a felony for a man to desert his wife or child, will be advocated by George L. Sehon of the Kentucky Children's Home society, at the next session of the general assembly. Mr. Sehon, who was here making his annual settlement with the state auditor, said that 65 per cent. of the wards of the society had been deserted. The society received several the past week whose fathers had deserted them.

There are now 207 children in the institution at Louisville, the largest number in its history. He attributes the increase to the economic conditions of the last year.

FIGURES ON GRAVEL ROADS

Fulton County Keeping Tab On Cost of State Highway.

Hickman, Ky. (Special): S. L. Dodds has been busy leveling and widening the state road at various points to conform with the State specification for gravel roads. Mr. Dodds is doing the work without any cost whatever to the county. In addition he and his associates have given $5,000 to the county for gravel road construction. The exact cost of every part of the road will be kept, and then the citizens of Fulton county can determine whether they wish to build more.

NEW ANNEX TO HOSPITAL

King's Daughters of Frankfort Buy Ground For Addition.

Frankfort, Ky. (Special): The King's Daughters' Circle has arranged details for the purchase of property adjoining the King's Daughters' Hospital as an annex to the institution. The present building is overcrowded most of the time to such an extent that nurses were compelled to give up their quarters for the accommodation of patients.

Accidental Shooting.

Bowling Green, Ky. (Special): Mrs. L. B. Whitney accidentally shot her brother, Paul Wilson, son of George W. Wilson, in the fleshy part of his leg when she accidentally discharged a pistol. The physicians were unable to locate the bullet. Mr. Whitney presented his wife with a pistol and her brother had just finished showing her how it worked, when she picked it up, not knowing it was loaded, pulled the trigger.

Reach England Safely.

Lexington, Ky. (Special): News has been received here that the steamer New York, on which Louis des Coteaux, Jr., in the fleshy part of his leg when she accidentally discharged a pistol. The physicians were unable to locate the bullet. Mr. Whitney presented his wife with a pistol and her brother had just finished showing her how it worked, when she picked it up, not knowing it was loaded, pulled the trigger.

Suit Over Collision.

Bowling Green, Ky. (Special): Florence Bailey, wife of Virgil Bailey, brought suit in Warren circuit court against Roy Johnson and his mother, Mrs. N. B. Johnson of Russellville, for $1,000 damages. The plaintiff charges that the defendant ran a car which belonged to his mother, into her buggy, demolishing it and throwing her out, badly bruising her.

Hurt In Auto Accident.

Ashland, Ky. (Special): Four persons were injured when a touring car went over a high embankment at Wheelersburg. The car was occupied by Ray Adams and John Kreith and Misses Irene Zeek and Eva Markin. The machine turned over twice in its descent, hurling the occupants out.

Nashville Elects Mayor.

Nashville, Tenn. (Special): Judge Robert Ewing was elected mayor of Nashville, and J. O. Tankard, city commissioner, to succeed Mayor Howse and City Commissioner Robert Elliott, who were recently suspended under his order law.

Brave Girl Drowned.

Carlisle, Ky. (Special): Miss Marie Theatham, fourteen years old, daughter of Herman Cheatham of this city, while with a camping party at Sherburne, was drowned in Licking river while trying to rescue her little brother, who fell from a boat in the middle of the river.

Held For Shooting.

Carlisle, Ky. (Special): Wesley Macklebee and Babe Johnson were held to the circuit court under $250 each as the result of a shooting in Sharpshooter. Neither was injured, but Pharo Moore, a bystander, was shot in the arm.

Cutting Tobacco Crop.

Glasgow, Ky. (Special): W. J. Hays of Cave City, tobacco grower, has been prepared for the erection of a $10,000 bank building by the Exchange Bank of Sharpshooter.

Bystander Wounded.

Grayson, Ky. (Special): Jessie Stamber, an innocent bystander, was dangerously shot twice by a man who, it is said, meant to shoot Lewis Farson, a farmer, with whom he had a difficulty.

Plans For Bank Building.

Grayson, Ky. (Special): Plans have been prepared for the erection of a $10,000 bank building by the Exchange Bank of Sharpshooter.

There are others who have done good work but these are the best in their class.—Teacher, Elizabeth Tudor.

Robert Walker, Richmond, Ky., made fourteen shows at the Bessie, Ky., fair, winning nine blues and five red ties. Hazel, full sister to Hazel Dawn, won first in all her classes. Robert Walker, Jr., made a great show with his spotted shellant pony, Polka Dot, made three shows and two blues and one red. He is just seven years old, but handled his pony like a Grand Circuit driver, and had the crowd with him at all times. Bessie had the best fair in years. Big crowds, show rings well filled, and races good.—Home Farm Journal.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Despair. Husband
Came to Rescue.

Ky.—In an interesting letter place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock follows: "I suffered for four womanly troubles, and during I could only sit up for a little and could not walk anywhere at times, I would have severe pains side.

My husband was called in, and his treatment for a while, but I was not to my bed again. After nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand,
and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tire
tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

A short answer is long remembered.

Luke McLuke Says:
Always remember that if you try to live a double life you will have to do two men's work.

What has become of the old fashioned country lad whose daddy made him walk to church barefooted, but who had to stop and put on his socks and shoes before he entered the church?
We all believe in heaven. But mighty few of us live as though we wanted to be sure of getting there when we die.

When a princess purchases a six carat diamond for 69 cents she has to feel her chin every two seconds to make sure that her chin is still there.

When they are first married they know that filthy lucre can never come between them and that money can never disturb the happiness of their great love. And about a year later they have a little every Saturday because he is short a dollar in his pay.

Of course we will have to admit that the men are a lot of nuts and that they do a lot of fool things at times.
But until we see two of them kiss when they meet on the street we are going to maintain that they have more sense than women.

It has got so in this country that success means losing your health hunting for wealth so you will have enough money to travel around and try to regain your health.

The old time days did their traveling in a small schooner where they could eat about icebergs or torpedoes,
and they saw America first.

Any old time man goes to the races and buys a ticket on a horse that is an eleven-year-old maiden which is half turkey and half small and the rest of the horses in the race fall down and break their legs and his horse wins he spends
the rest of his life telling his friends that Pittsburgh Phil and Riley Gran-man were blind babies at the racing game.

This business of naming babies after presidents has its drawbacks. In a few years from now many a public school yard will be the scene of many a rough and tumble fight between William Howard Taft Smith and Theodore Roosevelt Jones.

For Assessor.

Mr. J. S. Gott has announced for Assessor of Madison county. Mr. Gott is a successful young merchant of Berea.
He is sober and industrious and attends closely to business. He comes from a long line of Democratic ancestry and is himself a true blue Democrat. His large family connections and friends have been voters not office holders, not one has ever held office. He now asks the Democrats of this county to give him
the office of Assessor, promising in return that in the discharge of his duties
he will be fair to the county and to every individual taxpayer in the assessment of his property.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson VII.—Third Quarter, For
Aug. 15, 1915.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, 1 Kings xii, 25-33.
Memory Verses, 25, 29—Golden Text,
Ex. xx, 4, 5a—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

When we hear Jeroboam saying in his heart, "Now shall the kingdom return to the house of David," * * * they shall kill me and go again to Rehoboam, king of Judah" (verses 26, 27), and remember that God had said to him if he would walk in His ways and do right in His sight, He would be with him and build him a sure house (xi, 37, 38), we cannot see any evidence in Jeroboam of any faith in God or any heart for Him. When he took counsel and made the calves of gold and set them up at Bethel and Dan for Israel
to worship, saying, "Behold thy gods, O Israel, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt" (verses 28, 29), he proved himself an idolater and a liar and a true child of the devil. He preferred his own way to God's way,
darkness rather than light, the service of the devil rather than that of God.
His sacrifices and his feasts, his altar
and his incense, were all the device of his own heart (verse 33), and it is written of him again and again throughout all the story of the ten tribes, "Jeroboam, the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin." He never turned from his evil way, but did worse and worse.
His religiousness was a disguise. He died and was succeeded by his son Nadab, who followed in his father's footsteps (xiv, 20; xv, 25, 26). Jeho-boam reigned in Judah seventeen years, but he also died in the sight of the Lord, and the people into idolatry and into all the abominations of the nations which the Lord cast out before the children of Israel (xiv, 21-24).

This is a story of long ago, but is believed repeated over and over in our eyes today, and as truly as the time came when both the ten tribes and the two tribes went into captivity for their sins, so the time will come, is even how drawing near, when the Lord will sweep out of His mouth the professing church because of her sins and set up His kingdom of righteousness and peace on this earth (Rev. iii, 14-22).
The church, the company of believers, is expected to represent Christ on this earth, as Israel was expected to represent the Lord God of Israel;
to walk in His ways and do right in His sight. From the beginning God has wrought by His Spirit and His power the deliverance of the church.
He created all things in the beginning,
and thus He restored all things after the catastrophe (Gen. i, 1; ii, 3; Ps. xxxiii, 9). In all the history of Israel He redeemed. He set His people free. He restored them to His apostles. "It is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you" (Matt. x, 20).
It is written of Stephen, "They were not able to resist the wisdom and the Spirit by which he spake" (Acts vi, 10).
When we consider the worldly abomi-nations which are found in the churches of our day and the false teaching, such as the denial of the virgin birth, the deity of Christ, His vicarious atonement (His suffering for our sins in our stead), His literal resurrection from the dead, present ministry of intercession for His people, and coming again for His own, and later
with His own to set up His kingdom, does it not seem as if many of the leaders of our day are, with their increased light, worse in their idolatry and unbelief than were Jeroboam and Rehoboam? In all ages God has had His own faithful ones, though always only a few comparatively. One day as Jeroboam stood by his altar at Bethel to burn incense there came a man of God out of Judah with a message from the Lord, and he said that one would come from the house of David, called Joshiah, who would burn the bones of the false priests upon that altar; and as a sign that it would be so the altar was then rent and the ashes scattered.

Jeroboam attempted to lay hold of the man of God, but his hand dried up, and he could not draw it back again until the man of God prayed for him. Then he asked the man of God to go home with him that he might refresh him with food and give him a reward; but he replied that he was charged by the Lord not to do this.
Shortly after this an old prophet of Bethel, who had been told by his sons of this incident, saddled his ass and found the man of God sitting under an oak and invited him home, but the man of God replied as he did to Jeho-boam. Then the old prophet said that an angel had told him to come for him and to bring him home. (But the old man lied.) To this the man of God yielded and went home with the old prophet. As they sat at table a strange message came through the old prophet, which was fulfilled when the man of God left his house, for a lion met him and killed him, but did not eat him and did not harm the ass on which he rode. This story is fully recorded in 1 Kings xiii. The fulfillment of the man of God's prediction some 300
years later is found in II Kings xxi.
As to the death of the man of God for disobedience I must often wonder if Paul had it in mind when he wrote
Gal. i, 8, 9. According to those words there are many who are under that curse because they do not preach the simple gospel. We must hear only what God the Lord has said (Ps. lxxxv,
8) and be deaf to all else.

Brakeman Was Cured

F. A. Wootsey, a railroad brakeman of Jacksonville, Texas, writes: I was down with kidney trouble and rheumatism so bad I could hardly get up when I sat down. I had a backache all the time and was almost tired of living. I saw Foley Kidney Pills advertised. I took some and after a short time I was thoroughly cured and am having no more trouble." They act promptly and help kidneys throw poisonous waste products out of the blood. Thousands have written similar letters. Sold

Summing Up the Evidence

Many Richmond People Have Been Called As Witnesses.

Week after week has been published the testimony of Richmond people—kidney sufferers—backache victims—people who have endured many forms of kidney, bladder or urinary disorders. These witnesses have used Doan's Kidney Pills. All have given their enthusiastic approval. It's the same everywhere.
30,000 American men and women are publicly recommending Doan's—always in the home papers. Isn't it wonderful, convincing mass of proof? If you are a sufferer your verdict must be "Try Doan's first."

Here's one more Richmond case.
Mrs. Nelson Ross, 419 Laurel St., Richmond, says: "My kidneys were irregular in action and I had pains through my back. At times I was nervous and dizzy. Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Middletown's Drug Store soon made me feel better in every way."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the one that Mrs. Ross
had. Foster-Milburn Co. Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—adv.

Sunday. Jim Sutton sold a bunch of hogs at 7 1/2 cts to Billy Lawson. Mr.
Price Huffman sold a horse to Bill Burton for $100. Miss Margaret Doty is visiting friends at Paint Lick. Messrs.
Leslie Parson and McKinley McLuerry of Flatwoods were the guests of Mr. Oscar Beasley Saturday and Sunday. Mark Bogie sold a bunch of hogs to V. A. Lear at 7 cents.
Mr. Andy Lee is rejoicing over the arrival of a bouncing baby girl. Miss Pearl Hogg entertained Saturday night, a number of young folks in honor of Miss Maggie Hogg of Danville. Rev.
Beagle will conduct a series of meeting at the Fork church, beginning the first Sunday in August. Miss Margaret Huffman is at home after a splendid visit with her grandparents
Bob Dorton of near Lancaster. Mr.
Clyde Oston of Danville was the guest of Mr. Herbert Doolin last week. Misses Pearl, Virginia and Maggie Hogg were the guests of Mr. Staland Hill of Bryansville part of this week. Miss Mararet Huffman attended the Danville fair and was the guest of Mrs. Ed
Owens. Mr. John Hicks and Miss Martha Baker both of this community were united in marriage by Rev. Thompson of Mt. Heron Wednesday and are now receiving congratulations from their many friends.

Constipation Causes Most Ills.

Accumulated waste in your thirty feet
of bowels causes absorption of poisons,
tends to produce fevers, upsets digestion.
You belch gas, feel stuffy, irritable, almost cranky. It isn't you—it's your worn out bowels. Eliminate this poisonous waste by taking one or two Dr. King's New Life Pills. Enjoy a full, free bowel movement in the morning—you feel so grateful. Get an original bottle containing 36 pills, from your Druggist today for 25c.—adv.

20 Years Ago

From Climax Files

John W. Adams died suddenly at Winchester, aged 64.
Andy Cochran refused $1250.00 for his pacing horse, Andy.

The new church at Panola was dedicated, Sunday August 4.
Supe W. H. Adams, of R. N. I. & B.
R. R. attended a family reunion in Cleveland, at which 73 members dined.

Miss Elsie Bennett went to Mt. Sterling to assist Miss Helen Chenault in her private school.

Wm. Parrish, of Winchester called at the Climax Office and asked if breakfast was over. He says he boarded in

Sluggish Liver Causes Trouble

The discomfort and dangers of hot weather are doubted if the liver is sluggish and torpid and the bowels irregular and inactive. There is no better remedy than Foley Cathartic Tablets for indigestion and constipation. They are prompt wholesome and vigorous in action without griping or pain. They cleanse the stomach, invigorate the system and stupid, languid and weak. A Foley Cathartic Tablet will help you. Stout persons are particularly grateful for the light, free feeling they bring. Sold

A Medicine Chest For 25c.

In this chest you have an excellent remedy for Toothache, Bruises, Sprains, Stiff neck, Backache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism and for most emergencies. One 25c. bottle of Sloan's Liniment does it all—this because these ailments are symptoms, not diseases, and are caused by congestion and inflammation. If you doubt, ask those who use Sloan's Liniment, or better still, buy a 25c. bottle and prove it. All Druggists—adv.

One Improvement.

"My dear," said Mrs. Newlywed, her face flushed with the excitement of her afternoon in the kitchen, "I want you to be perfectly frank with me now; what would you suggest to improve those doughnuts I made today?" "Well," replied Mr. Newlywed, lifting one with a slight effort, "I think it might be better if you made the hole bigger."

Is Sickness a Sin?

If not, it is a neglected illness and means of relief. It's wicked to endure Liver Ills, Headache, indigestion, constipation, when one dose of Po-Do-Lax gives relief. Po-Do-Lax is Podophyllin (May Apple), without the gripe. It arouses the Liver, increases the flow of bile—Nature's antiseptic in the bowels. Your Constipation and other ills disappear over night because Po-Do-Lax has helped Nature to remove the cause. Get a bottle from your Druggist to-day. Get rid of your Constipation overnight. adv

Put It Up to the Hogs.

A blacksmith in a small Connecticut town who occasionally goes on protracted spree was seen figuring on the barn door and later throwing five bushels of corn on the ear into the pen where he had six hogs, and as he turned away he heard to say, "There, blast you, if you are prudent that will last you."

Use for the Menu.

"How's this?" said Cumso to Cawker, as they sat down to the annual banquet of the Allied Sons of Liberty. "There's no wine on the menu, but half-a-dozen glasses are at each place." "The menu is to take home to our wives," was the satisfactory explanation.

Potsponing Old Age

Overworked, weak or diseased kidneys will often make a man or woman feel old before middle age. Rheumatism, aches and pains in back, puffiness under eyes, stiff joints, and sore muscles, biliousness, headache and various other symptoms give warning that the kidneys need help. Foley Kidney Pills bring a sound, healthy condition and help the kidneys eliminate uric acid and other poisons from the system, which, when permitted to remain, cause dangerous disease. Sold Everywhere. adv

A Model For Summer or Fall Wear

Designed by Hickson & Co., New York.

THIS model may be adopted for a coming fall style, but will insure satisfactory summer wear. The skirt is gathered at the top and is made original by a tuck forming a point in front and giving a long apron effect. Tucks also predominate on the coat. The pointed yoke ends in a tuck, and three tucks continue down the coat. Tucks also govern the sleeves. There is a decidedly high standing collar, and only a small portion of belt appears, as it is not worn to confine the waist line, but is simply slipped through the sides and buckled in front to add further style to this very fashionable model of rather old design. ANNA MAY.

Highlands is Now Part of L. &amp; N. System

Will Be Operated in Future As Branch of Louisville and Atlantic Division.

The Kentucky Highlands railroad passed away as a separate entity yesterday when the final documents transferring its ownership to the Louisville and Nashville were filed in the office of County Clerk Crawford Lee. The road now becomes a part of the Louisville and Atlantic division, the headquarters of which are in Richmond, but there probably will be no change as the public is concerned in its operation. It has been practically part of the L. and N. system for a long time.

P. F. Manning, who has been president of the Highlands as well as general manager of the Frankfort and Cincinnati retires as the Highlands' president, but continues in charge of the F. and C. H. R. Rodman, who has been chief clerk, goes to Louisville to enter the accounting department of the L. and N.

AMOLOX CURES SKIN DISEASES

Stops itching instantly, drives out all skin eruptions. Do not suffer unbearable torture of eczema and other skin diseases. Amolox is the prescription of a well known doctor who has used it with remarkable success in his private practice and now for the first time is offered to all sufferers from eczema, tetter, psoriasis, ringworm, acne, pimples and all skin eruptions. Henry L. Perry sold Amolox on a guarantee to refund your money if it fails to give satisfaction. Just wash the skin with a few drops of this remarkable clean prescription, allitch and burning stops instantly. It softens and soothes the skin, so you can rest and sleep. Trial size 50 cents.

In chronic cases best results are obtained when both liquid and ointment are used. adv

A True Fish Story.

Mr. S. P. Crawford who lives near Doyleville in Madison county, while passing near the backwater on his farm, had his attention attracted to something floundering in the water. On investigating same, he found it to be two fine buffalo perch which he secured without trouble. They weighed about ten pounds each.

Birthday Remembered

Mr. Dillard Berryman one of the best known residents of Brasfield neighborhood as well as one of the best citizens Madison county has ever had, now in his eighty second year was given a surprise Sunday, Aug. 1, being his birthday. His six children and his six grand children appeared at his home, entirely unexpected by the old gentleman, to spend the day with him. They were laden with baskets filled with substantial for the inner man and delicacies such as loving daughters know how to prepare. Family matters of the long ago and reminiscences were indulged in and a most delightful day was spent.

J. H. Crook sold to John Hahn a sow for $14.

Warren Rogers, of Cane Ridge, purchased a bunch of 950 pound cattle at 8 cents.

W. M. Jones, of near North Middle town, bought 41 head of 775 pound cattle at $7.25.

John T. Collins, of near North Middle town, bought fifty head of 1,000 pound cattle at $8.

James Rails, of Bourbon, bought four head of army horses from Nicholas county farmers at $100 per head.

Rash Galtskill Buchanan, of Clintonville, sold his yearling pony to Clarence Kerr, of Lexington, price $75.

Caywood, Smith & McClintock, of Paris, bought an aged mule from Chas. Thompson, of Lexington, for $80.

John Standard, of Amsterdam, N. Y., paid $12,500 for a yearling thoroughbred colt, at the recent Sheephead Bay auction.

W. W. and J. T. Johnson, of Missouri recently contracted at Miles City, Montana, for 9,500 western lambs, for October delivery, and have an option for 10,000 more.

Monte Fox, of Danville, purchased 70 head of extra export cattle from N. W. Hambrick & Son, of Georgetown, at $9 per hundred pounds. He also purchased a carload from J. M. Jones, at the same figure.

A. H. Hancock, of Paris, sold to Charles Thompson, of Lexington, a pair of army mules at $500. Mr. Thompson also bought a pair of mules from J. H. Fuhrman, of Paris for $305; a pair from R. W. Thompson, of Bourbon, at $310 and a pair from Caywood, Smith & McClintock for $300.

Breeders of cattle are much interested in an unusual purchase of Herefords by E. H. Taylor, Jr., for his farm in Woodford county. The consignment, consisting of 30 cows and 3 bulls, has been shipped from England, where they were bought for Mr. Taylor by George Leigh, of Aurora, Ill., at what is reported to have been a very stiff price on account of war conditions.

Walter Clark sold to Gentry & Thompson, of Lexington, Monday, eight head of army mules "at army prices," said Mr. Clark.

R. E. Moreland, Lexington, recently purchased the chestnut harness gelding, Winchester's Pride, shown last year in the Shropshire string.

George Keller, Jr., of New Orleans, La., bought recently of Allen S. Edelen, of Burgin, a combined mare for $275, and a Bohemian King saddle colt for $365.

Minnesota has a law under which a reward of $200 is paid for the capture of a horse thief. A resident of the State who captured a mule thief had his claim for the reward disallowed by a decision of the State Supreme Court, it being contended that a mule is but half a horse.

Louisville, Ky., August 10.—Mrs. Frank Pettis, wife of the well-known assistant chief electrician of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, who resides at 800 Camp street, Louisville, is among the many women who have found speedy relief from serious illness by the use of Tanlac. Mrs. Pettis said:

"I have been in a nervous, rundown condition for some time. My digestion was very poor, and I had difficulty in eating solid foods. I was so depressed in spirits at times that I almost had a dread for the future."

"Tanlac proved to be just what I needed. The medicine acted like a general tonic for me. I am improved in every way, and I very cheerfully endorse Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Richmond by H. L. Perry.—adv.

Too poor to take the home paper?

Well, that is a distressful condition. Buy a hen, feed her crumbs and waste from the kitchen and she will lay eggs to pay for a year's subscription; then work her up into a pot pie and she will pay her first cost; so the paper will be a clear profit. Repeat this process year after year.

Miss Clay Speaks.

Miss Laura Clay, of Richmond, spoke here Saturday in the interest of Equal Suffrage. Owing to the extreme heat there was not a very large crowd, but those who heard Miss Clay's masterful presentation of her subject were enthusiastic in their praise.—Lancaster Record.

Shot Five Times Negro Dangerously Wounded in Fight At Dance—Whisky The Cause

Andrew Johnson, a negro, was shot five times and dangerously wounded in a free for all fight in a dance hall at Ford, Clark county, Saturday night. Steve Hill, and Chennault Shearer, also negroes, were arrested for the crime and brought to this city by Sheriff Howard Gilbert. They were arrested over in Madison county by the proper authorities and turned over to Sheriff Gilbert at Ford. They were brought to this city and lodged in jail.

Hill is accused of trying to attack Johnson with a knife, while Shearer is charged with firing the shooting. Nine shots were fired from an automatic, five of which took effect in Johnson's body. The prisoners claim they were first fired upon, but no weapon was found upon Johnson and witness declare he did none of the shooting. The wounded negro was reported dead several times during Sunday but late today was still living with a chance of recovery.

As the affair was the result of drunkenness, an investigation was launched to learn where the men obtained their liquor. Deputy Sheriff H. C. Hodgkin, Jailer J. S. Mullins and Revenue officer Matt Madigan went to Ford Sunday in an automobile and raided a place near the scene of the dance, but made no arrests. They found a large number of bottles and other evidences of a blind tiger and secured sufficient evidence to bring a number of indictments.

Henry Long, of Paris, Mo., sold twenty-one head of three-year-old mules to Moore & Son, of Memphis, Tenn., for $2,500. Mr. Long had raised them from colts.

The safe in the Frankfort depot was cracked by burglars and $40.00 was stolen.

Sidney Smith of Lexington who was thought to be in danger in Mexico is reported to be in safe quarters.

The Lexington Fair has been attended by large crowds.

The probing in the cause of the Eastland disaster has been finished and the grand jury is expected to return indictments.

A Corsican Calls
By
FRANK M. O'BRIEN

(Copyright, The Frank A. Munsey Co.)

The sun, after a long struggle with the smoky fog, slunk down in his course. The light changed to a dull gray, kindly shutting out the sight of red blotches on greenish-yellow grass, a hideous contrast. There were no sounds except the muffled clicks and snaps that fell when an army is going to rest for the night.

The war master sat in a field tent, gazing down the trampled hill to the meadows where his hopes—for the day—had been realized. Tomorrow? No human being was near, unless one could count as human the rigid figures of the imperial guard. These statues, formed in squares and lanes, were as still as the night.

One lane was a long, narrowing patch of haze, for the moon had not yet risen to its vain task of trying to shine through the murk. And in this lane, as the war master watched with eyes that were focused on nothing at all, something appeared. At first it seemed like a gray veil, floating in the outline of a human form.

And now, still without salute or challenge, the silent thing, less like a gray veil and more like the film of a man, came to the tent slowly and entered. Entered confidently, with the air of an equal, and bowed, but only from the neck and not from the hips. There was no mistaking the cut of the cloak and the cock of the hat.

The war master's eyes were cold, too, returning the bow, but no calm. A sneer, whether in word or look, is the easiest fashion of covering surprise—or alarm. The war master did not rise.

"One of the allies, I believe," he said.

"No," said the visitor in a dull voice, "say, rather, a neutral."

"Indeed!" said the war master. "Is not Corsica loyal to France?"

"After a man's death," said the visitor, "his politics and fealties do not change; they merely disappear."

"I am pleased to hear that, Herr—"

"M. Bonaparte, if you will, or even Mister. I became accustomed to hearing the latter title aboard the Belterophon."

The war master did not seem to be listening. He was watching his visitor narrowly.

"I wonder—" he began, and then ceased to speak.

"You wonder," said the visitor, smiling, "whether I am not real. I beg to assure your majesty that I am not real. I understand, of course, the trend of your thoughts. It has occurred to you, as it would occur to every man, that under similar circumstances, that I might be some new output of the wizardry of war—an impalpable man, free to come and go among the tents of the enemy. I saw the brief flash of annoyance when it came into your mind that if there was any such devilry possible your gentlemen of the laboratories should have discovered it first."

"Such," said the war master arrogantly, "is our custom."

"The speed of thought is one of the few human things at which I still may marvel," pursued the Corsican. "You revolved in your mind not only possibility, but a dozen ways in which the magic might be used. There is nothing contra in the rules of war, I believe."

The war master raised his brows in mock modesty.

"A dozen ways!" he repeated. "You flatter!"

"No," said the Corsican, "at least a dozen, perhaps a score. I know. I should have thought of fifty."

"With such talent," began the war master, "your total of successes—"

"Let me save your voice," interposed the Corsican blandly. "You would remind me that where I began in failure at that very spot you ended in success. But I would remind you that any town in Waterloo where Waterloo is found."

"A ghostly warning," said the war master, laughing. He had risen as if to end the interview. It was a habit, and he did not realize his error until he saw the Corsican smiling at him.

"No, not a warning," said the visitor. "It was idle chatter, mere words. But you see I have the whole evening for my errand. Perhaps I expected a more cordial meeting. I thought to be formal, as people were long ago."

"You were not famed for formality," suggested the war master.

"I had no time for it," returned the Corsican a bit sadly. "But I have plenty now."

"Then you have the advantage of me," said the war master. "What is your errand? To ask questions?"

A patient smile crossed the face of the Corsican.

The war master turned upon his visitor with almost savagery.

"Who—who sent you?" he cried.

"Jan Bedanow," replied the Corsican. The war master's shoulders, raised in suspense, fell to their normal angle.

"I do not remember him," he said.

"You never knew him," said the Corsican.
